1. Chapter 1

Chizuru looked out of the window and sighed as she slumped back in her chair.

It had been raining non stop for the last five hours .

She was so bored , she really wanted to do something interesting .

Her father had to work until late and her brother was out with his friends so she was all alone inside her boring normal house .

She tried to find something to do ,first she tried reading some books she had taken from the library but it made her even more bored .

She sighed and went to the kitchen and started cutting the vegetable's for today's dinnerâ€¦even if she would eat alone once again â€¦.

She blinked as she realized that she didn't have the most important thing for the soup , she huffed annoyed how could she had forgotten to buy it .

She lazily dressed up and took her umbrella out and headed to the grocery store.

She soon picked what she needed and started walking at the dark street as the rain fell from the dark clouds .

Then all of sudden she heard a gunshot and turned shocked she saw a guy with red eyes looking around annoyed a gun in his hand along with his companions .

At that moment his eyes turned towards her but before she could meet his gaze a hand pulled her inside a dark alley .

" Don't scream or I will kill you . " A happy but yet dangerous voice prevented her from moving .

Her breath hitched in her throat , she felt the gun pressing against her head .

Finally the man with red eyes along with his companions left .

The man loosen his grip on her and smirked at her " Why a girl like you wonder around alone at night ? It is dangerous you know . " He said as he finally showed himself .

It was an attractive man only one or two years older than her . He had brown hair and a pair of mischievous eyes in the color of emerald and a handsome smirk on his face . He had a gun on his right hand but he soon hide it inside his coat .

He chuckled " You still haven't answered my question little kitten . "

She blushed slightly but she shook her head and asked him " W-Who are you ? "

He raised an eyebrow at her amused " Hmm do you really want to know ? " He teased her lightly but then he introduced himself " I am Okita Souji and you are Yukimura Chizuru ,correct ? " He questioned with a small smile on his face .

The girl looked at him surprised " H-How do you know my name ? " She managed to question .

" Hmm ? Well it is written on your notebook . " He said his picked up a red small notebook that have fallen to the ground .

He started reading it aloud _" Dear Diary, today is such a boring day I wish something interesting would happen . "_

" DIdn't you wish that Chiz-zu-ru-chan ? " He whispered in her ear making the girl blush .

" I-I guessâ€¦I didâ€¦" She replied not sure what to say this man was dangerous she could sense it.

He smiled at her " Anyway since you owe me your life , how about helping me a little bit ? " He suggested .

" Y-You saved my life ? But from whom ? " The girl asked surprised .

He blinked at her and then a smirk found it's way on his handsome face " Oh so you don't knowâ€¦you are pretty clueless you know thatâ€¦"

His eyes turned serious " Those men you saw belong to one of the most dangerous gangs in all Tokyo , they will kill whoever stands in their wayâ€¦innocent or notâ€¦" Souji explained as he buried his fist inside his hands and bit his lip making it draw blood .

She gasped " That's horrible ! " Chizuru exclaimed then she saw the pained look on his face She couldn't help but ask" Did they hurt someone important to you Okita-san ? "

The man looked surprised for a moment but his eyes darkened " That is no one of your business Chizuru-chan . " He announced as he glared her making her take a step back from fear .

Then a smile appeared on his face " Now , about the favour I asked you offâ€¦You seeâ€¦I need a place to stay since I am new here-" All of sudden he started coughing hard the pain in his lungs worse than before .

" Damn it . " He cursed .

" Are you alright Okita-san ? ! " The girl questioned as she ran to his side a worried look inside her brown eyes.

He finally managed to stop coughing his eyes a bit glassy from all the coughing " I am alright â€¦don't worry about it . " He tried to calm the girl down but then he started coughing even more than before and then Chizuru realized that he had just spit blood .

Her eyes widened as he fell to the ground and bit his lip " Damn not againâ€¦I-I can still.." He muttered before he lost consciousness .

" Okita-san ! Okita-san ! " The girl cried as she ran to his side , she looked " Somebody help ! " She called but no one could hear her ,her voice echoed on the dark night .

She bit her lip wondering what she should do .

She then shook her head , she had already made her choose .

She couldn't just leave him like that when he was injured and sick as well .

She took one of his hands and carried him back on her house that was nearby .

When she entered her house she realized that her family wasn't here yet and sighed in relief .

She took the brown haired man and lay him on her brother's bed .

He looked like he was in pain .

She put a wet towel on his forehead to make the fever cool off but his breathing didn't seem to ease at all .

She looked at him worried and held his hand she didn't know what else she could do .

Her eyelids slowly closed and she fell asleep by his side on the meanwhile two ruby eyes were watching them .

" You won't escape that easilyâ€¦Okitaâ€¦" He called as he disappeared to many small petals.

2. Chapter 2

A man was running with all his might his emerald eyes widened and a gun was on his hand .

He ran inside the room with a scream " Don't ! ! ! " He cried as the man with the ruby eyes was ready to kill one of the most important people in his life .

The man turned to face him and a smirk appeared on his handsome face as with one move he shoot the man straight through his heart .

The man spit blood and then turned to face him he smiled bitterly at his friend who was watching the scene with widened eyes .

" I am sorryâ€¦Soujiâ€¦Goodbye â€¦ " He managed to whisper before he let his last breath .

" No ! No ! NOOOO! " He cried as the tears ran from his eyes he ran where his master was lying his eyes closed .

He wasn't breathing .

Souji started breathing faster than before and his whole body shook .

He turned to face the one who was responsible for all this his eyes ready to kill whoever stood in his way .

He stood up and walked towards the man his whole body shaking with the desire to end the life of this man at this moment .

He wanted him to die in pain and suffer . He would torture him for days and nights until he begged for forgiveness for what he had done .

_The ruby eyed man smirked at him " What's the matter â€¦are you may be angry that I killed your friend ? Hn ! He was pathetic and he knew too much I couldn't possible let him live . " _

The smirk on his face widened " Now tell me does it hurt ? Does it hurt to see the ones you loved so much lying there lifeless ? Knowing that they will never wake up ? "

His steps echoed in the hallway as he approached the boy who was glaring at him .

" You are really pathetic like him . Do you hate me you low scum ? " He whispered as Souji buried his fists inside his hands until it hurt .

" I will tell you something â€¦.I enjoyed killing himâ€¦" The ruby eyed man said .

That was the last straw Souji punched him straight in the face sending him some meters away .

He spit blood and fell to the ground hard , he groaned in pain sooner than his eyes could see Souji was in front of him once again his eyes widened .

Inside his eyes was madness only madness .

He couldn't take it anymore ! ! ! The man who saved him now was gone and the beast inside of him took control .

His eyes turned from green to almost yellow and a maniac grin appeared on his face , he kicked the killer in the stomach and then threw him in the air and pulled him from his hair and punched him endlessly until the other man couldn't move .

He took the gun and fired several shots while in the same time he had grasped him from his neck and struggled him .

The man couldn't escape even how much he tried to he felt his breath be taken away from him .

Souji expression turned to one of a maniac as he slammed his enemy into the wall making the other man cry in pain .

" You will die begging for forgiveness for destroying my life you damn fucking bastard ! " Souji yelled as he took one small blade from his coat and cut his enemy's hand off .

The man's screams echoed in the empty room as Souji approached him and he shoot once more .

The man fell to the ground lifeless his body mixed with his own blood .

Souji stood there a smirk on his face as he kicked the corpse away from him .

His face was painted with the crimson blood of his enemy .

Then his eyes turned to the man who had saved him and walked towards him a bitter expression on his face .

He sat down next to him .

He was smiling kindly at the world bravely facing his death .

Tears started falling from the young man's emerald eyes as the memories of him and his teacher came back to him .

_The day he was saved from his empty house that was filled with the ghosts of the past ._

The day he smiled after the death of his parents .

The day when he met his friends in the dojo .

And the day when this man took his hand and guided him through life with a bright smile on his face .

And lastly the moment of his death replaying on his mind over and over .

He hugged the lifeless body of his teacher as the tears fell on him .

" I am so sorryâ€¦I couldn't save youâ€¦Kondou-san â€¦ " He whispered .

Souji's opened his eyes , his breathing faster than before he looked at his hands .

They were not filled with blood .

He then finally calmed down .

' It was just a dream . ' He realized as he finally managed to ease his breath .

'A dreamâ€¦huh ? No it wasn't a dreamâ€¦it was a memoryâ€¦a very dark memoryâ€¦he never wanted to remember ever again .

After that he looked around him .

" Where am I ? " He whispered in confusion .

He didn't remember renting a hotel room â€¦

Then the memories of last night came back to him â€¦

Right he had met that girl ..Chizuru-chanâ€¦and then he all of sudden started coughing blood .

â€¦But that still didn't explained where he was .

Then he felt something warm on his right hand .

He blinked and curious he turned see the brown haired girl holding his hand tightly .

His eyes widened slightly in surprise but then a gentle smile found it's way to his lips .

'â€¦She must have taken care of me after I faintedâ€¦' He realized and then his eyes softened .

He patted her head after that he leaned closer to her and whispered softly " Chizuru-chan wake up . "

The girl didn't stir even a bit .

The brown haired man just chuckled and then an idea crossed his mind . A smirk appeared on his handsome face .

' This is going to be fun . ' He thought as his eyes shined with mischievousness .

The end

Well I really wanted to write a fight and something bloody so I thought hey that could fit here !

3. Chapter 3

The brown haired man smiled to himself as he kissed her hand and then took her in his arms and laid her on the bed next to him .

A smirk appeared on his face as he got another idea .

He took off his shirt and laid down in the bed close to her so close that their noses were touching .

" Chizuru-Chanâ€¦Wake upâ€¦" He called as their lips were only inches away .

He moved the hair that was hiding her face and shook her shoulder a little .

" Chizuru-Chan â€¦wake up ! ~ " He called once more .

Chizuru's eyes opened slightly ' Who is calling my name ? ' She wondered as she opened her brown eyes to see a handsome man without a shirt their faces only inches away .

" Good morning Chizuru â€“ chan ! " He greeted with a small smile playing on his lips .

Her face turned crimson " G-Good morningâ€¦um who are you ? " She asked after a moment not completely awake yet .

His expression turned to a sad one " You don't remember me ? After all that happened yesterdayâ€¦we had so much fun together how could you forget my love ? " He said his eyes showing that he was hurt by her words .

" I am so sorry um but what happened yesterday between us ? " The girl asked completely oblivious on what he was implying .

He raised an eyebrow at her and then smiled slightly as his eyes shined with mischief " You are so innocent but maybe you will remember once I do â€¦thisâ€¦"

All of sudden he pushed her down to the bed so he was on top of her .

" W-What are you doing ? " The girl asked surprised as her cheeks turned red .

He leaned closer to her and whispered in her ear " What am I doing ? I am just going to repeat what happened yesterday Chizuru-chan , you don't like it ? You really enjoyed it yesterday ! But I am gonna make you like it once more â€¦after allâ€¦you are mineâ€¦ " As soon as he finished his sentence he sucked on her neck making the girl blush even more .

' What is going on ? Who is this guy ? ' She wondered as he continued kissing her neck as she blushed ' Who does that feel good ? ' She screamed in her head as she closed her eyes she couldn't take it anymore .

" Do you like itâ€¦.Chi â€“ Zu â€“Ru â€“ Chan ? ~ " He whispered in her ear then Chizuru's eyes widened as she realized what he said that had happened yesterday .

Her whole face turned red " Y-You..M-Meâ€¦T-That ? ! " She exclaimed shocked really embarrassed .

He nodded " Exactly ! " The brown haired man replied cheerily as she felt ready to faint on the spot " No way . " She whispered to herself as her eyes widened even more .

Then all of sudden she heard someone laugh she blinked and she saw the man who made her feel like that had stood up, was wearing a shirt and was laughing .

" W-What is so funny ? " She managed to shutter confused by his actions .

He finally managed to stop laughing and looked at her his eyes shining with mischief and a smirk appeared on his handsome face " That you actually believed me ! Your face was so hillarous Chizuru â€“ chan ! " He exclaimed as he chuckled slightly at the embarrassed girl who was looking at him confused .

" So this wasâ€¦allâ€¦just a joke ? " She questioned and then he nodded happily " Yes exactly ~ "

She sweatdroped ' I totally fell in his trap . ' She thought to herself ' I am so embarrassed . ' She thought as she hide her face inside her hands .

" Do not hide yourself from me â€¦Chizuru-chan . " He called as he took her hands away and held them tightly " Sorry for that I was just teasing youâ€¦have you remembered me yet ? " He asked with a smile .

Then the events of the last day passed through her eyes " Okita â€“san ! " She realized as she forgot completely about what had happened some minutes ago " What are you doing up ? You were injured ! You should be resting ! " She said as she pushed down to the bed so that he could rest .

He smirked slightly " Wow I never thought that I would be pushed to the bed by you of all of people . " He teased her as the poor girl blushed slightly .

" Just stop teasing me and rest please Okita- san ! " She exclaimed as she stood up and touched his forehead and sighed " You still have a high fever , I will go and make something for you to get better . " She said as she disappeared from the room only to return some minutes later with a plate full of hot chicken soup on her hands .

The man just raised an eyebrow at her " What is that ? Chicken soup ? " Then he suddenly started coughing " Damn . " He whispered .

Chizuru nodded " Yes it will help you feel a bit better and you won't cough as much then ! So eat it ! " She said as she took the spoon and put it straight in his mouth .

His eyes widened for a moment then he blinked and he smirked " Chizuru â€“ chan ! I feel so bad ! I can not eat by myself can you feed me ? " He requested dramatically as he cranked one eye open to see her reaction .

" F-Feed you ? " She whispered a blush slowly appearing on her cheeks once again this afternoon .

She shook her head trying to think clearly then she looked into his eyes " N-No you should try to do it by yourself Okita-san . " She replied " But I will sit here with youâ€¦to keep you company . "

" Hmm how disappointing ! " He said then his eyes turned serious " Heyâ€¦why are you taking care of somebody like me ? " He questioned his eyes piercing to her soul .

She took a step back " W-Why wouldn't I ? Y-You are injured and y-you saved my life it is all I can do for you â€¦ " Chizuru answered his question hesitantly .

His eyes saddened " I seeâ€¦soâ€¦that's how it actually isâ€¦huhâ€¦so in the end you don't remember meâ€¦" He muttered to himself the girl blinked " Did you say anything Okita-san ? " She asked .

The man shook his head " No it is nothing â€¦I guess you want to know more about them don't you ? "He said as he looked out of the window .

It was raining hard nobody was on the streets .

" Them ? " Chizuru repeated confused not understanding what he meant by that .

He gritted his teeth and his voice came out almost like a growl " The ones who you saw yesterday..those killers . Damn that Kazama . " He said the name like it was poison in his mouth then his eyes shifted back at her " So do you want to know or not ? "

The girl gulped and then she nodded " I-I would like to know . " She replied hesitantly .

Souji nodded and his eyes turned sad " These gang has been killing whoever stood in their wayâ€¦they kill mercilessly they don't care who the victim is women,children they will kill everyone no matter who it is . " He bit his lip " They also killed someone I knew â€¦" He started saying as his whole body shook with anger .

" He was a kind , nice man who had a small dojo in Kyoto â€¦to me he was like an older brother . I had to go to meet somebody in Tokyo for some personal business and when I came back â€¦I saw them killing him in front of my very eyes â€¦" He buried his fists in his hands and bit his lip even more " I saw them kicking the corpse laughing â€¦those damn bastards ! " He whispered barely managing to control his rage .

Chizuru just listened , she was shocked to have to go through something like that it must have been terrible .

" But the worst of them ..was that man â€¦the one you saw yesterdayâ€¦" Souji commented his eyes burning with fury .

" The one with the red eyesâ€¦who has been destroying my whole lifeâ€¦he burned my house with my parents inside it and then he killed my teacherâ€¦." He said as he punched the wall .

She was looking at him her eyes widened " Who is he ? " She questioned then he breath caught in her throat as she heard his name .

Souji turned to look at her his eyes burning with anger and he spit the name like it was poison in his mouth " Kazama Chikage . "

The end .

Whoa that was a nice chapter !

_Fun at the beginning but then it got serious again ! _

4. Chapter 4

" Kazama Chikage. " He said as his eyes looked at her while he buried his fists .

Her eyes widened in shock as she heard that name " Kazama Chikage ? ! Could it beâ€¦? " As she processed the information in her mind slowly she cried " Oh no ! "

Souji blinked as he watched the girl going back and forth while holding her head in shock .

" What is going on? I didn't expect you to be so surprised after you learned his name â€¦so why are you like that ? " He questioned after some minutes of silence between them .

She stopped and turned back to face him as she felt tears to fall from her eyes .

" My father..had to meet him..todayâ€¦He couldn't,could he ? " She asked looking at him in the eyes as Souji shook his head understanding what the girl was trying to say..she was shocked even by the idea that she couldn't express it that well...

His eyes saddened " Chizuru-chanâ€¦As I said before he kills whoever appears in his wayâ€¦I am sorryâ€¦" He said as he approached her and hugged her tightly .

She buried her face in his chest clutching his shirt the tears falling like rain from her eyes . She sobbed for a long time , feeling the raw pain of realizing that someone so close to you may be gone .

Souji on the meanwhile caressed her hair and whispered comforting words in her ear as he was looking at her feeling his chest heavy .

Seeing her cry like thatâ€¦for some reason..it made him feel..sadâ€¦

His eyes widened as he remembered that night .

A boy about 7 years old was alone inside a house that was on fire .The flames were licking his feet as he ran inside the house trying desperately to escape .

" Mom , Dad , Mitsuba-nee-san ! " He called over and over the names of his family as he ran from room to room but he got no reply .

He could barely breathe the tears were rolling on his cheeks as he felt his breath being taken away , he fell down his eyes filled with tears " No I don't want to die . " He whispered hoping that a miracle would happen before his life would end .

All of sudden he felt someone pulling him and he managed to open his eyes as the smoke didn't make him able to see clearly .

" Everything it's gonna be alright Souji . " A familiar voice whispered these comforting words as he felt his heart being filled with hope .

" Nee-san . " he said but his voice wasn't heard through the sound of the fire burning everything in its path .

All of sudden the ceiling above them fell down on them " Souji , Mitsuba ! " A familiar voice cried and pushed them out of the way .

Souji coughed and his sister opened her eyes a second later , their eyes widened by the sight that was in front of them .

Both kids turned to see their father barely alive below the weight that had fallen above him .

Souji's eyes widened " Father ! " He cried as he ran to his father's side and looked at him , his eyes filled with worry and pain inside them .

The older man smiled at him barely managing to surpass a scream that was threating to come out of his mouth and bit his lip in pain .

" I am so glad to see that you are alrightâ€¦my sonâ€¦" He said and then he coughed up some blood as Souji's breath hitched in his throat .

" Father ! No ! " He exclaimed as his eyes filled turned serious and his expression turned to a confident one " Just wait ! I am going to take you out of here with me ! And everything will be alright ! " He decided as his emrald eyes shined with confidence .

He tried to pull him out of them with all of his might , but he couldn't move him even an inch .

The small boy tried again and again refusing to give up , he just couldn't accept the fact that there wasn't anything he could do anymore .

His sister looked at him sadly as she slowly approached him and pulled him away from their father .

" No ! Stop it ! I have to save him ! What are you doing ? ! let me go right now ! Don't hold me back ! "The boy struggled against her grip but the girl was refusing to let him go .

" Stop it Souji ! " She yelled as her scream echoed in the room and got mixed with the sound of the fire burning slowly their only exit .

Silver tears fell from her eyes as she bit her lip , Souji's eyes widened in shock , never had he seen his older sister cry , it was the very first time in his lifeâ€¦and it would probably be the last..

_He looked away and gulped the flames slowly reaching his feet , his clutched his fist and spoke once again his voice cold and emotionless " Nee-sanâ€¦Let . Me Go ! " _

More pieces took fire and almost fell on them .

" Souji , Mitsuba , please just go ! " Their father ordered them his voice not letting a no as a possible answer .

" But fatherâ€¦!" Souji tried to say but his father shook his head " Think it of it as my last wish , Soujiâ€¦" He said a bitter smile on his face .

"Father. " Souji managed to whisper the tears falling from his eyes clouded his vision . His sister hugged him tightly and held his hand as she urged him to run away .

_He bit his lip as he took one last glance at the place that his father was smiling at him , when he turned to leave like a miracle he heard his father's voice whispering .
>" I always be proud of you Soujiâ€¦.I love youâ€¦Goodbyeâ€¦" He smiled and let his last breath .

_Souji run outside with all his power and let out a terrifying scream " No , no , no ! " He fell to the ground and punched it , the tears falling from his eyes " Fatherâ€¦damn , damn ! " He clutched his fists that were filled with burnings, scars and blood. _

" Noâ€¦why did this have to happen to us ? Why ? ! " He asked the tears falling like ran from his eyes as his sister approached and hugged him tightly " Soujiâ€¦" he buried his face and clutched her shirt as he cried .

They stayed together like that for some time and looked as their house slowly turned to ashes .

" Nee-san ? " Souji's soft voice interrupted the silence that was between them " What are we going to do now ? " He asked as he looked deep into her eyes wiping the tears away from his own .

She smiled bitterly " We are gonna be all on our own from now on . But it is going to be alrightâ€¦.we will make it ! " She exclaimed trying to be happy again for the sake of her brother .

" Nee-sanâ€¦" The younger boy whispered and smiled at her .

Souji's eyes widened as the memories became fresh in his mind again " Nee-san â€¦" He whispered and looked at the girl that had fallen asleep inside his arms .

He caressed her hair and muttered " I don't know whyâ€¦but this girl reminds of you for some reason . " He looked outside from the window , it was raining again .

He shook his head and took out his mobile phone and dialed an number .

A mature voice spoke from the other line " Yes ? "

Souji chuckled " Always so uptight Hajime-kun . " He commented a smirk appearing on his handsome face .

" Souji ! You are alright ? That's a relief . " Saito Hajime his friend and comrade said .

The emerald eyed man nodded " Yes , I am okayâ€¦but I will come back some time later..I need to take care of somethingsâ€¦" He replied .

His friend nodded " Alright then , see you soon . "

" See ya . " Souji said as he ended the call and glanced at the girl once again a bitter smile on his face " If you only knewâ€¦" He leaned closer and kissed her forehead.

_The end _

Well umâ€¦sorry for not updating so soon ! . I didn't really have inspiration . Still I hope you liked it !

5. Call From Hell

He felt something wet on his cheek and when he opened his eyes his whole body shook in shockâ€¦

Her lips moved slowly " I am sorryâ€¦" She said before a sword pierced through her chest "..This is â€¦goodbyeâ€¦" She smiled only one last time and then she was gone. He looked at her dead body and heard a laugh , he looked up to see two red eyes laughing at his misery .

_He will never forget those red eyes that made his life miserable . _

His eyes widened as his clutched his head 'Nightmares againâ€¦"His breathing was uneven , he looked outside it had stopped raining he blinked as a nice smell came from the kitchenâ€¦

He walked towards the room and saw Chizuru cooking while humming happilyâ€¦

A small smile appeared on his lipsâ€¦that girl was so happy and innocent , it seemed like in her whole life nothing bad has happened but even if it had she didn't show it .

He walked towards her with a smirk on his face and whispered in her ear " What are you making ? "

The poor girl hadn't noticed him so she actually jumped up in shock and turned to face him with widened eyes then she took a deep breath and calmed down " Oh my God , Okita-san please don't do that againâ€¦you scared me ! " She said still a bit surprised .

He smiled in an apologetic way " Gomen , gomen . " He replied " So what are you making ? " He asked once again .

" Oh ! Some soup for you Okita-san and some yakisoba . " She answered as she continued cooking a smile appeared on her face as she exclaimed " It's done ! "

Souji smiled slightly at her and she served the food and set it on the table .

" It smells really nice Chizuru-chan and now we shall see if it tastes good as wellâ€¦" He said as he tried a bit of the soup .

" How is it ? " The girl asked kind of nervously .

He smiled " It's pretty good . "

The girl blushed slightly and smiled a bit as she started eating as well .

He started telling her jokes as they laughed together happily what Chizuru didn't notice was the tint of sadness his eyes had inside of them .

When they finished Souji stood up and took his cloak along with his belongings and headed outside without saying a word .

Chizuru looked at him surprised and followed him " Okita-san where are you going ? ! " She questioned as she ran to catch up with him

" Okita-san ! " She called his name again and this time he turned back to face her , he was glaring at her " What do you want ? " He said his voice cold as ice she flinched slightly at his tone and took a small step back .

" Please tell me where are you going Okita-san ! " She said trying to not stutter because of fear , his eyes were so cold and angry but they were sad as well at that moment she took some courage " I can't just leave you like that ! " She added since he hadn't replied yet .

" Why ? Why are you saying stuff like that ? I am just a strangerâ€¦" He muttered but she still heard him .

" Because of these days we spent together , I think you are a good person and you are not fully healed yet from those wounds ! " She replied .

" You don't want to get involved with me little girl . If you do you will sufferâ€¦ soâ€¦ stay away from me . " He added bitterly .

" Why ? Okita-sanâ€¦you must have gone through so muchâ€¦I-I think you need someone to be by your sideâ€¦someone that you can tell your problems to , if you keep them inside you will suffer all aloneâ€¦" She whispered the last words .

His eyes widened slightly but then his glare hardened " Youâ€¦Do you think you really know me ? Do you believe you are someone important to me ? ! You just took care of me for some days ! That means nothing ! And even if I told you about what happened that day , it doesn't mean we are friends or something ! I won't tell you where I am going and you should never bother me again . " He finished without even looking back and then continued walking and soon he disappeared in the shadows .

If he had looked back , he would have seen her crying slightly , she wiped her tears and ran inside her house . She sat on her bed and hugged her knees as she leaned her head on them as she sobbed quietly .

Souji walked alone in the darkness and sat down in a bench and sighed " I shouldn't have been so harsh on herâ€¦" He muttered " Butâ€¦if she got more involved with meâ€¦they probably will hurt her , she doesn't deserve thatâ€¦So it's better if she doesn't knowâ€¦if she doesn't knowâ€¦who I really amâ€¦"

It started raining , he looked upwards to the sky and his emerald eyes closed as he felt the rain falling on him , it didn't matterâ€¦anymoreâ€¦rain will wash away all of the memories they spent togetherâ€¦like they hadn't even met .

He stood up and continued walking all alone as the storm turned even worse , the thunder roared like an angry lion in the sky and then all of sudden he felt his breath being taken away , he fell to the ground and he saw something red in his handâ€¦something he didn't want to see againâ€¦blood .

Chizuru had finally stopped sobbing . She stood up and wondered whyâ€¦.why did he act like that ?

All of sudden her window opened on it's own as wind came inside the room , she closed her eyes and when she opened them in front of her stood a man with red eyes along with two others one of them was tall and had red hair while the other was grinning and was holding a gun .

" Are you Yukimura Chizuru ? " The tall guy asked with a deep voice .

She nodded slowly , she was afraid ! Who are those guys ? Why are they here ? So many questions appeared on her mind .

The red eyed man smirked " Yukimura Chizuruâ€¦you will come with usâ€¦" He said and Chizuru felt someone hitting her neck " What ? " She wondered before everything faded to black .

When she opened her eyes again , she noticed that she couldn't move her hands nor her body , she looked down and saw that she was tied up .

" Oh you are awakeâ€¦" Someone said and she turned to see the man with the gun that she saw before .

" Oi,Kazama ! " He called " The kid woke up ! " He announced and Chizuru's eyes widened ' Kazamaâ€¦" That name sounded strangely familiar before she could think any longer she was thrown outside straight to the ground .

" We are finally here . " She heard someone saying and then someone pulled her rope up , she couldn't even speak or do anything only watch as they led her inside a dark corridor then she was thrown inside a dark room straight to the cold and hard floor .

" You will stay here for the time beingâ€¦until he comes to save youâ€¦" Kazama said as they closed the door .

On the meanwhile Souji had found a shelter from the rain and all of sudden his phone rang he answered " Hello ? "expecting to hear Saito's voice to tell him where they would meet but instead he heard a familiar voiceâ€¦a voice he didn't ever want to hear ever again " Helloâ€¦Souji...how are you ? " The man on the other side of the phone said grinning , Souji's eyes widened " Kazama Chikage . " he said as he clutched his fists .

" Oh I see you haven't forgotten me already , that's a good sign ! Nowâ€¦shall I tell you somethingâ€¦niceâ€¦? Or you don't want to hear it ? " He asked toying with his mind .

" Spit . The . Damn . Thing . Out ! " Souji replied his patience already gone .

He smirked " I have someone you care aboutâ€¦.do you want to hear her voice ? " He put the speaker on and then Souji heard a familiar voice screaming in pain " Stop ! " She cried as she started crying .

He recognized the voice " Chizuru ! " He muttered shocked and then he started shaking in range " You bastard , what have you done to her ? ! " he screamed not able to hold his anger any longer .

" Hm ? Me ? I didn't do anything to herâ€¦but you probably knowâ€¦what I will do soon enoughâ€¦Don't you ? " He replied smirking

" What do you want from me ? Damn it ! " Souji cried .

" I don't want anything from youâ€¦.I just want you to suffer once moreâ€¦If you want to save her come to the same place in an half an hourâ€¦if you don'tâ€¦you know what her fate will be . " And then he ended the call .

Souji started running as fast as he could his eyes filled with rage " I will save you Chizuru ! " He exclaimed as the thunder roared in the sky .

The end .

6. The girl with the emerald eyes

The darkness surrounded the poor girl who barely managed to keep her eyes open .

The pain she felt was unbearable , her throat was dry as the sand , she can't move , her vision is filled with black spots and she knows that she is hopeless no one will save her .

She desperately wants to cry for her help but she doesn't even have the strength to raise her voice .

They had tortured her until she had fainted , her body was filled with bruises and blood was falling from some of them but she couldn't do anything to stop the bleeding .

She can still hear their twisted laughs as she screamed in pain not being able to stand strong against this enemy , she was completely helpless .

She looked inside her dark room as she felt slightly dizzy from the blood loss , there wasn't a single trace of light in the room

Chains were wrapped around her hands and legs not allowing her to move , her body was already completely numb .

She felt a sharp pain from her wrist that was the place she was scarred the most and it hurt so much , she bit her lip and she desperately whispered for help .

But no one could hear her inside this dark place .

She heard the door open and her eyes widened in fear thinking that they had come again to make her suffer even more than before , she felt tears falling from her eyes as her body shook in terror .

She waited to hear the arrogant voices of those men she hated but instead she heard a monotone voice and a female one at that .

" Do you want to escape ? " She asked as she slowly walked towards the weakened girl , Chizuru looked at her .

She had long brown hair and familiar emerald eyes but the way that those looked at her , made her realized that they were completely lifelessâ€¦her steps echoed in the silence and Chizuru nodded her head in reply , she really wanted to get out of here .

" And what would you give in exchange ? " The girl questioned her as she let her drink some water as she felt the liquid running through her lips she felt a bit better .

Her chains were untied from her and she was finally free but her legs were still numb from standing for so many hours.

" I will ask you againâ€¦.what would you give me in exchange of your freedom ? Your feelings, your heart or maybeâ€¦your life ? " The girl smiled evilly as Chizuru felt a shiver run down her spine as the girl with her emerald eyes widened walked towards her , a mad grin on her face .

" Help me ! " Chizuru cried for help in her mind as she felt herself being sucked in another place . She opened her eyes and then a voice echoed through her mind .

" This is my mind and you are gonna see my memories..if you understand who I am , I will let you escape...but if you don't...I will take your heart so you will become an empty vessel like me...I wish you Good Luck..."

The end

Okay I know this is too small but I will give everyone's point of view in different chapters so here starts Chizuru's . Who is that girl ? And why does she seem familiar ? Will she make it ? Will she help Chizuru or hurt her in the end ? And when will Souji appear ?

7. The Memory

He was so close to the meeting place but then all of sudden something exploded , he screamed in pain as he was pushed away and then he heard several gunshots aiming for him .
>He looked up and saw a man with brown hair grinning like a madman " Okita Souji ? " He spoke with a deep voice and then laughed cruelly " And I actually believed you would be a worthy opponent but it seems like that's not the case huh ? " Those purple eyes were laughing at him as well but that didn't matter now what mattered was that Chizuru was in danger and he had to save her , NOW !
Souji stood up and grinned at him " Hey , mate you know I am already pissed off and in hurry so if you could just give up and get out of my way I would truly appreciate it . "
>The enemy raised an eyebrow " Sorry I can't do that , I have my ordersâ€¦after allâ€¦" He licked his lips " I came here to have fun . " His eyes were filled with the desire for a fight .
Souji looked down as if he was defeated " Ohâ€¦wellâ€¦."
>His opponent smirked " What ? Are you afraid of me ? What a cowar-" Before he could finish his sentence he was sent flying in the air by Souji's punch .

He fell to the ground and bit his lip as his eyes burned with anger " You fucking bastard ! " He cursed . As he tried to stand up before he could a gunshot was heard .
>" If you don't wanna dieâ€¦.Get out of my way ! " Souji cried as his eyes almost turned from green to red , a bloody red .
He chuckled as he saw his enemy looking at him like he was a monster , he chuckled " Never did I thought that I would use this form again one dayâ€¦" He smirked as his hair turned white like the snow and his eyes red like the blood that was on his hands .
>The other man bit his lip and tried to stood up " Monster ! " He yelled as he threw a small knife that he had with him aiming for the red-eyed creature's face .
For a second Souji took a step back like afraid of what was coming but then he smirked as he caught the knife with his bare hands .
>He examined the small blade and raised an eyebrow " You thought you could kill me using something like this ? "" Now...tell me where is she hidden , if you don't tell meâ€¦you are deadâ€¦" He promised him as he pressed the blade only some inches away from his opponent's neck .
>He just laughed " I won't tell you anythingâ€¦I am not going to betray them , Takasugi Shinsuke doesn't break his promises ! " He cried as he glared one last time at Souji " Die monster ! " He yelled as an explosion was heard and everything turned white , the whole earth shook .
Souji was sent away and he spit blood as he fell to the ground and now his arm was filled with scars that were bleeding , he panted Takasugi seemed to have escaped or did he die in the explosion ? He didn't know nor did he care anywayâ€¦
>He tried to stand up but he felt a sharp pain in his arm and he bit his lip and he fell once again to the groundâ€¦
Then all of sudden it started snowing , the small petals danced in the wind and painted everything white .
>He closed his eyes " Snowâ€¦" He muttered and then a memory passed his mind a memory he had forgotten long time ago.
The snow fell from the night sky gently as a young boy walked alone the only thing that could be heard in this beautiful silence was his steps on the snowâ€¦nothing else .
>The road was empty nobody walked in a snowing night like this outsideâ€¦.today was a Holiday anyway everyone was there with their families celebrating but not him .
>He was looking down his face was bruised and his legs could barely take him , for a second he felt his breath being taken away and a liquid fell on the ground painting the bright white snow crimson .
>His breathing was uneven , his vision was slowly turning hazy .
>Then he tried to stand up but fell on the cold snow yet again , tears fell from his eyes , he couldn't take it anymore he needed helpâ€¦his sister had died five weeks ago along with his whole family and now he was aloneâ€¦walking endlessly searching for some food , some warmth , searching for something that will make him feel it againâ€¦feel happiness again .
>Then he heard a voice " Are you okay ? " Someone asked he opened his eyes and saw a small girl on his age with big brown eyes he didn't answer her question he didn't have the power to his throat was dry and he was shivering so he just shook his head .
>The girl looked at him some more then held out her hand as she smiled at him " Take my hand . " She said as he weakly took it in his own " So coldâ€¦" Thought the girl as she helped him stand up and led him inside a small house .
>The boy stopped shivering the house was small but it was warm and cozy the girl invited him inside and left for the kitchen , he looked around the house was empty nobody beside them was insideâ€¦how unusualâ€¦such a day he would have expected that everyone would be with their familiesâ€¦

>Then the girl came in the room holding a cup filled with hot chocolate and gave it to him " Here you are ! " She said smiling .
>He blinked and he took it and with a voice that could be barely heard whispered " Thank youâ€¦" The warm liquid run down his throat and he felt a bit better than before .
>He looked at the girl and for the first time in weeks he smiled gently , the girl felt a blush filling her cheeks at that image , the green eyes sparkled with happiness because of such a simple thing .
>" What's your name ? " The brown haired girl asked him curious .
>" Okitaâ€¦Soujiâ€¦" The boy muttered .
>She smiled at him " Nice to meet you Souji-kun ! I am Chizuru ! " She introduced herself cheerily .
>He nodded " Chizuruâ€¦um why did you help me ? " He couldn't help but ask it was one of the questions that were inside his mind all this time .
>She blinked " I saw you there all alone in the snow and thought you needed help so I came and invited you inside ! " Chizuru explained .
>" Ohâ€¦" Was all that the emerald eyed boy muttered and then he looked at her surprised nobody all this time had acted kindly towards him , they were just passing by not caring about nothing else beside their selves the world had become so selfish he realized but just a small girl on his age didn't hesitate to help him even if she didn't know anything about him .
>" Thank you Chizuruâ€¦I am in your debtâ€¦if there is anything I can do to repay the favour I shall do it ." He bowed slightly and then girl just giggled " You don't need to be so formal ! " she exclaimed but then her eyes saddened slightly " But you could keep me company , right ? It doesn't feel nice being all alone in a day like thisâ€¦you probably feel the same way don't you ? " The girl questioned as she smiled bitterly .
>He couldn't help but nod but then curiousity took the best of him " Why are you alone ? " He regretted asking when he saw her look down sadly " You don't have to answer if you don't want to ! " He added quickly .
>The girl shook her head " No it's alrightâ€¦" She assured him then she walked towards the window and looked outside at the snow " Actually my mom died a year ago in a day like thisâ€¦our father had died long time ago we never managed to meet himâ€¦since then me and my older brother are living here aloneâ€¦right now he is outside searching for some money so we could buy some bread to eatâ€¦" She explained and Souji looked at her saddened by her story " I am sorry for askingâ€¦" He apologized and then remembered his own family and bit his lip as the memories filled his mindâ€¦but he knew that they were goneâ€¦
>Then Chizuru sat next to him and said " But since you are here I won't be alone at leastâ€¦" She whispered and her eyelids closed slowly , Souji was really tired and then he looked outside one last time and he fell asleep .
>The girl's head leaned on his shoulder and his own was leaning on hers both of them were smiling in their sleepâ€¦sadly but with a bit of hope in themâ€¦
>" Chizuruâ€¦I am coming to help you soonâ€¦" He whispered as he managed to stand up blood falling from his arm and walked into the night after some time he managed to reach the meeting place that Kazama had told him aboutâ€¦but no one was thereâ€¦he saw a small note and took it .

_" It seems you have passed through the first challengeâ€¦now here comes another one you have to solve this __riddle " Where is the place that the tears fall and flowers refuse to bloom ?__ " There you will find your princessâ€¦Good Luckâ€¦"_

>Souji felt his knees weaken and he fell to the ground sick and tired of all of this madness .
He had to find her .
>He had to !
The end
>Here is the next chapter of Best is yet to come , I hope you enjoyed it ! Please review !

8. Insanity

Chizuru was inside a mirror she looked at her reflection as a voice laughed inside her head like a mad man who was ready to commit murder at any chance , he had.

" Young girl you won't be able to escape that easily from me ! " The voice cried out and the glass shattered too many pieces injuring Chizuru in the process and painted it in the color of the blood .

She fell to the ground , her knees not powerful enough to hold her as she felt the knife touching her neck in a deadly way , ready to give the final blow any second but it wouldn't ever come because she knew that the one who had captured wanted to have much more fun than kill her so quickly .

What she desired was to see the fear in the brown eyes of this girl and hear her scream when she tortured her .

She grinned madly as she grabbed Chizuru's hair .

"â€¦Now dear..are you ready for your long awaited journey to beginâ€¦? " She questioned and pushed Chizuru in a dark room and disappeared .

" Let's see if you will be able to handle it , little girl . " She laughed as the eyes of the brown haired girl widened in shock at the scene that stood before her .

The fire was burning everything in the path she had to walk on and she felt her breath to be taken away by the black poison of smoke , in front of her stood a man with red eyes who smirked to himself as he licked his lips and took out his sword that was already painted red and pointed at the poor girl whose could barely breath .

" Time to have some funâ€¦Shall we ? " He said and Chizuru felt pain shooting through her whole body as the cold metal cut her several times .

She looked in the sky as tears fell from her eyes and a sole word was written in her face .

" Help . "

Help that she wouldn't be able to have because it was already too late.

Souji opened his eyes and bit his lip in pain as he tried to stand up , his right arm painted red from all the blood .

His vision was very blurry but he wouldn't give up .

He knew he had to use this power again if you wanted to find Chizuru but he knew the side effectsâ€¦would he be able to stop them ? He wondered but he had already taken the decision long time ago.

He took a red pill from his pocket and quickly ate it .

He smirked as his eyes turned red once again .

" It seems like I have any other chance to come out then. " A different voice than his usual one whispered as Souji consciousness faded and it gave its place to a man that had been locked inside of him for a very long time .

He licked the blood of his short knife and a grin appeared on his face as he walked slowly towards the meeting place , his steps echoing in the darkness .

He closed his eyes and grinned as he knew it was finally his time to shine .

" And nowâ€¦let's lose control . " He whispered hotly excitement flowing in his veins .

It had been a long time since he had let himself fall to this state and it felt so great !

He chuckled darkly as he walked in the dark night .

Who can guess what is he planning ?

Nobody because this side of him has been hiding for many years and it was finally his time to let loose .

On the meanwhile the explosion had been heard to the headquarters of the enemy and wasn't ignored .

The red eyed man grunted in annoyance as he stood up " It seems like that trash wasn't enough to kill him...So uselessâ€¦" His eyes twitched in anger " Shiranui . " He called his companions name and the man stepped forward " You shall try nextâ€¦Do not disappoint me or you will meet with my blade . " Kazama ordered as he left the room along with Amagiri .

Shiranui could barely hold the rage that he felt " Don't worry , I won't because if what you said it is true then I can take revenge for my dear friendâ€¦" His hands turned to fists as his whole body shook in anger and his eyes glowed in the darkness .

" That man is going to pay with his life ! " He called out and headed to the place where the showdown would begin .

Souji chuckled darkly as the man with the purple eyes glared at him

" Got a problem with me ? " He said as he walked towards him grinning madly .

" You bastard , you shall die for what you did to my friend ! " Shiranui cried out his voice filled with anger as he imagined Takasugi lying there lifeless , his eyes widened as he heard his opponent laugh loudly .

He was already standing in front of him , grinning , he leaned closer and whispered " Do you really believe that you can defeat me ? Hm ? " He questioned as his knife he was holding in his left hand was ready to cut his throat .

He closed his red eyes and continued before the other man reply .

" You can't so get out of my way or elseâ€¦you will go and meet your friend in the underworld..." He threatened and Shiranui smirked .

" Not if I kill you first . " He declared as he took his gun out , Souji chuckled " It was your choice , say goodbye to your petty life ! " He cried out as the battle began .

Chizuru knew that she needed to escape from this place , the fire burned her skin as the sword cut her flesh and blood poured from her wounds , she screamed in pain as her attacker laughed .

" Hmâ€¦Are you giving up so soon ? " He commented and leaned closer " I want to have some more fun..." He whispered as he grabbed her face roughly , he studied it and smiled darkly .

" You have a pretty face for a trashâ€¦and that makes me want to make you suffer even more..." He punched her hard on her stomach and she felt her body crying out in pain , then somebody forced to stand up and looked straight to his face .

The man chuckled as he made his decision " Be gratefulâ€¦you will be working for me for now on..." He explained and grinned " Say goodbye to the world you knewâ€¦"and knocked her out...

" There she was again in the place everything began , will she be able to escape from the hands of insanity that cling to her ? "A voice whispered as everything faded to black .

Souji grinned as his enemy attacked him with several gun shots but he dodged them with ease and he already felt amazing . He couldn't remember when he last had so much fun .

He jumped forward and kicked away his opponent stupid weapon as he grabbed him from his neck and pushed him against a wall , his knife touching his neck in a threating manner .

He grinned as he stabbed him in the stomach and crimson blood painted him red .

Shiranui gasped in pain as his eyes widened at the sight of his own blood and then his breath to leave him when his opponent took the knife away from his stomach and kicked him straight in the wound .

Souji grinned as he licked his lips " Nowâ€¦say goodbye to this world . " He whispered and blood spilled on his face as he let the body hit the floor with a thud and took away his weapon from the corpse grinning like a madman .

" Never felt so alive in many years . " He said as he opened the door and then he fell to the ground coughing up blood .

" Damnâ€¦" He whispered as he felt the side effects of the bitter medicine , he was ready to throw up but he had to continue.

His eyes changed back to green and the insanity faded away from them .

He looked in front of him and sighed " Finally I am hereâ€¦" He managed to whisper and ran inside the rooms to see a man with red eyes much like the ones he had some moments ago grinning at him .

" It seems like nobody I sent was enough for youâ€¦Okita Soujiâ€¦" He chuckled "..Honestly,are you so desperate to save this girl that you would attack me at this state ? " He shook his head in amusement.

Souji laughed bitterly " I haven't lost my sanity yet,you bastardâ€¦But I won't lose a chance to kill you..." He admitted and then his face turned to stone " Tell me where she is or I am going to make you spill out by forceâ€¦So what do you prefer ? " He questioned and the other man laughed loudly .

" This is funâ€¦Show me what you got Okita Souji . "He said as he took a battle stance .

Souji's eyes shone with anger " With pleasure . " And the battle started .

The end of the chapter

I know I should had updated sooner but I was never in the mood for it..sorry XD Anyway hope you enjoyed this chapter ! Please review !

9. The End Of Our Suffering

Souji jumped in the air and shot several times towards Kazama who swiftly escaped every blow using his sword , he ran faster than a human could manage and punched the green eyed man in the stomach .

He grunted but aimed for his opponent head with the small knife that was hidden in his belt , he threw at him and jumped some meters away from him annoyed .

"â€¦This is too troublesomeâ€¦" He muttered as he took one of the pills and easily dodged the flying knives that were almost ready to pass through his head , he grabbed several of them and sent them back at the blonde haired man who glared at him as a one of them hurt his left hand , he watched as blood fell from it , with widened eyes .

" How dare you ? ! You damn piece of shit ! " He cursed as his eyes glare daggers at Souji who just smirked .

" What is that ? Can't stand seeing your own bloodâ€¦you bastard ? " He commented as Kazama charged at him almost blindly .

Souji avoided every blow with amazing ease and laughed loudly " Hahaha , you are so angry that you can't even aim properly ! " His eyes shined with confidence and that made his opponent even more pissed off !

He roared and he delivered a strong punch in the jaw , Souji almost lost his footing but easily found his balance again and grabbed his left hand and slammed him to the wall making him spit some blood .

A smirk appeared on his face as the red eyed man tried to escape his grasp , he bit his lip and punched the wall which got crashed by his fist , Souji took some steps back as the sword of his opponent missed his neck by an inch , but still sliced his cheek slightly .

He looked up to see the other man standing there with a bloody expression in his face , he licked some blood from his blade .

" Are you ready to die , you pathetic creature ? " He said as he walked closer to the fallen man who didn't even respond to his question .

That filled the gang leader with even more rage than before , he quickly sent a powerful kick on Souji's chest who didn't even have time to dodge it , he was thrown several meters away .

He wiped of the blood that was on his cheek and bit his lip as his worst enemy grabbed his hair and pushed him against the wall , he cried out in pain as blood fell from his mouth .

Kazama pressed his gun on the green eyed man's head and chuckled " You finally see,how low , you are ? You don't even deserve to liveâ€¦beg me for forgiveness and I may spare you ! " He suggested his eyes filled with joy , he just loved to torture this boy .

Souji just smirked and whispered " Like hell , I will do thatâ€¦" His chest was hit with a lot of force and he gasped as he coughed up some blood .

" What did you say , you trash ? " The annoyed man questioned him raising an eyebrow at him , no reply came from him " Answer me ! "He shouted his voice filled with anger .

" I am not going to beg for my life , you damn bastard . I am not going to die here . I have dreams that I need to achieve . " A smirk appeared on his face as two emerald orbs glared at him " And killing you is one of them . " He admitted as the other man looked at him with surprise written across his face and then all of sudden he laughed out .

" You are truly an idiot ! Even the thought of you being able to kill me is just too stupid ! Like I could die by someone like you ! " Kazama commented amused by Souji's words whose smirk just widened .

"â€¦You never knowâ€¦" He muttered to himself, the other man was still laughing and didn't notice the next attack .

With all the power that he could muster Souji head butted him and in his shock , he dropped the gun , the younger man grabbed it with ease and stood up .

Kazama looked at him with hate burning inside his eyes , he quickly took his sword out once again and was surprised when he heard the familiar sound of metal clanging against each other .

In Souji's hand was a long Katana , he didn't know when his opponent managed find it but that didn't matter . What was important was to just take the life of this lowly dog .

He took some steps forward slowly as the other man took two back , both of them were focused on each other's blade , everything was quiet . The tension could be cut by a knife .

Kazama decided to attack first , his sword missed Souji's head as the two weapons clashed against each other .

With a loud battle cry Souji pushed him away and then with the back of his sword he tried to hit his enemy in vital point so he could slow down his movements , he succeeded and swiftly delivered a strong blow that the other man barely managed to dodge .

" Now , now ~ This is starting to get tiring . How about we end this one and for all ? " Souji suggested , his emerald eyes shining as he walked closer to his enemy who had fallen on the ground by the strength of his thrust .

The man he hated laughed " This isn't done yet . " The sword user had reached him and he raised his word in the air .

" This is for the all suffering you caused me .For killing my family , my teacher and hurting everyone I care about ! ! ! ! " He shouted out and delivered the final blow-or so he thought , what had he cut down was his nemesis left palm , he let out a pained cry as the sword met with his skin .

He managed to stand up and create some distance between them .

Souji chuckled with a mad glint inside his eyes " Think you can win with this kind of wound ? You sure have a death wish . " He stated and then he heard him laugh back at him .

" Even if I die , I have caused you so much pain and that makes me happy ! I enjoyed watching you suffer when you lost the ones that you loved the most ! It was such an amazing feeling ! "

Rage boiled inside Souji whose eyes turned red and hair from brown to snow white with inhuman speed smashed against the wall , his hand holding tightly his neck .

He gritted his teeth " You bastard ! ! ! Just die already ! " He exclaimed as he buried a small knife in his right arm , breathing became even more difficult for the blonde haired man , a smirk appeared on his face and he closed his eyes .

" I am not done yet..." He whispered and out of nowhere a figure appeared behind them , Souji turned around and saw a stoic girl with dark green eyes holding an unconscious one , his eyes widened in realization , he recognized her .

' Chizuru ! ' He thought as the girl walked even closer .

" Now , my weapon , finish him off . " Kazama's voice echoed in his ears as the girl leapt forward with a knife in her hands , she threw Chizuru away from her and focused on her opponent , she threw several knives but he managed to get out of their range , he ran towards her and pressed his gun against her head .

" If you don't want to die , stop at this moment . " He growled at her and she looked at him straight in the eyes , his orbs widened " It can't beâ€¦" He whispered shocked .

A chuckle was heard " Oh yesâ€¦She is the last person from your family that is aliveâ€¦Your sister Mitsuba . " He explained as Souji's breathing became even more rapid .

" She can't be ! She is supposed to be dead ! " He cried out as his head started spinning .

" O-Okita-san . " A voice called his name and he looked back to see Chizuru trying to walk towards him .

" You idiot ! Stop ! It's dangerous ! " He warned her and he didn't notice that the other girl had escaped his grasp .

She was now pointing one of her small daggers at Chizuru's neck , his breath hitched .

" Release her this moment!"Souji exclaimed but she didn't move an inch.

He bit his lip as Kazama ordered her " Kill her . " Then Chizuru spoke in his astonishment .

" Mitsuba-sanâ€¦I have been in your memories . Do you really want to follow the orders of the man that took you away from your family and made you suffer so much ? " She asked and she looked at the young girl stunned by her words .

" Don't listen to her ! Just kill her ! " Kazama's voice rang in her ears as she looked at him .

She remembered all the pain she felt when he abused her and used her .

She slowly withdrew the blade from the girl's neck , she hesitated .

" You know what to do Mitsuba-san . " Chizuru said encouraging her . The blade fell from her hands and clanged to the ground .

Souji ran to Chizuru's side as fast he could " Stay beside me ! " He said as he took a defensive position , she could change her mind at any second .

The older girl looked straight into his eyes and she felt a warm feeling " Is that you otouto ? " She whispered , her voice now changed as moments of the times they spent together happily entered her mind .

"â€¦Nee-sanâ€¦" Souji could only say as tears fell from her eyes , he hugged her tightly " I am sorry . " He apologized .

Then an explosion was heard , Kazama was standing up again and in his hands was a gun , ready to shoot at any moment .

" What a nice family reunion ! That way I can kill you at the same time ! That sound so magnificient ! " He grinned like a mad man .

" Souji , go . " Mitsuba ordered her and her brother's eyes widened " What ? ! There is no way , I can leave you ! You can still be saved ! " He pleaded her shock written in his face .

She held his hand inside her own " You already saved meâ€¦Now go. I will take care of him . " She smiled at him gently and he looked away as he took Chizuru who was still wounded and unable to walk in his arms , tears rolling on his cheeks " Thank youâ€¦" He whispered as she watched him disappearing in the shadows of the night .

She looked at Kazama with a grin " This is the end for both of us . " She said as she took out something from her pocket , she threw it in the air and a powerful explosion painted the sky in the color of fire .

Souji ran as fast as he could but he was slower because of Chizuru , he looked back to see a huge fire in the spot where his sister used to stand , he bit his lip and continued running .

At some point he fell to the ground and he coughed up some blood as his eyes lost completely that hint of red that was inside them .

" Okita-san ! " Chizuru cried out as she looked at him concerned .

" I am alright . " He responded between the coughs as the liquid painted the ground bloody red , then his eyes slowly closed and everything faded to black .

The end of the chapter .

Finally here is one of the most difficult chapters to write ! Well I hope you enjoyed it ! Please review ! :)

10. Waking Up From This Nightmare

A man was hidden in the shadows,while blood spilled everywhere...

Red , red , red .

Everything was painted in crimson red , as the enemies fell down , one by one .

_All of them having fatal wounds caused by this cursed blade _.

His eyes are lifeless only with a slight hint of madness , it's like he doesn't feel anything , he just wants to killâ€¦Nothing else matters .

He wants to see the bodies hit the floor .

The ones who betrayed him , hurt him and made him suffer had to disappear . He won't fall back until they have been cut to pieces .

He wants to take revenge , he needs to but-but this side of him can't come out that easily .

This bloodthirsty creature has been hiding for too long even if it starves for blood and kill , he can't let it take over him .

He isn't a monster !

He isn't like him !

He doesn't want to kill anyone !

He justâ€¦.wants to live a happy life with ones he lovesâ€¦

A voice laughs in his head snapping him out from his thoughts " This is just a dream , it can never become reality and you know it ! "

"That's why you should do what you really enjoy!..Cut , stab , poison , bury your sword in their chests , slice their throats off . You just need to let me and everything will like you wish toâ€¦" The tempting voice whispered in his ear as he felt like everything was blacking out , he couldn't breathe !

His heart is beating fast as two hands wrap around his neck and squeeze it tigh t.

_A mad grin appears on __his__ face ._

"â€¦You needed to disappear first , so I can win the most difficult battleâ€¦The one against my own self . "

His eyes were barely open , he let out a cry as everything faded to the eternal darkness that was inside him .

Two emerald eyes snap open as he stands up panting , he looks around him in fear .

" What was that ? What was this man ? " He whispers holding his head as he tries to calm down his heart that is still beating so fast like it's about to burst .

" Just a dream , nothing else..." He mutters but this bad feeling is just too strong , something critical is going to happen soon , he knows it , he can feel it .

His eyes notice his beloved sword near him and he tried to reach it but pain runs through his left arm , he bites his lip as he finally remembers what actually happened the last time he was awake .

Even if his memories are still fuzzy , he can make out this much .

He fought against Kazama then on the critical moment a girl appeared along with Chizuru who later was shown to be his dead sister .

Then he ran and ran to escape from the huge fire .

That's allâ€¦But he knew he was missing the most important part but what was it ? He couldn't remember no matter how hard he tried to .

The sound of the door opening captures his attention and he blinks as he sees two very familiar figures stepping in the room .

" The Wolf and the Dog , huh ? " He mutters as the men approach him the 'Dog' smiling widely "You are finally awake!" 'Dog' exclaims as Souji grins "Yes,I am awake and alive as you can see ~ Even though I have some minor injuries . " He motions to the several bandages around his left and right hands .

"..It's a relief that you came backâ€¦" 'Wolf' said with his usual emotionless voice as Souji nodded , he knew that the guy was a man of few words .

Then his attention was back at 'Dog' " How did I get here ? " He questioned the young man who shrugged and closed his eyes " It seems like 'Wolf' along with 'Puma' found you unconscious near the big fire and took you back here to treat you . " He cracked one of his eyes open " You really should tell us what happened , you were in a really bad condition man . "

" That can wait for later ."Souji said with a really dark tone , he didn't want to speak about it yet .

The two turquoise orbs that belonged to 'Dog' blinked " Oh that's rightâ€¦there is that girl who wants to see you as well . We just came first to see if you are okay . Should we let her come in ? " He asked Souji who blinked as soon as he spoke the word 'girl' .

" Girl ? Could you mean Chizuru-chan ? " Souji said as the other man nodded " Yeah , she has been taking care of you since she woke upâ€¦You were out for a week but she never left your side . Everytime we asked why she was doing this , she would just smile and say nothing . What did you do to her anyway ? " He couldn't help but wonder as he saw a smirk appearing on the face of his friend .

" You don't wish to know ~ " He just said and then tried to stand up , gritting his teeth in pain , Wolf glared at him " You won't go anywhere , Souji . " He stated as the other man sighed " Damn , I really need to say something to her nowâ€¦.but it seems like I am going to be stuck here for a little longerâ€¦" He muttered to himself and then he heard a familiar voice shouting his name , he turned around a smile appeared on his lips .

Her face was shining with happiness as she soon she saw that he was alright a weight lifted off her shoulders " Chizuru-chan . " He said her name as she ran to his side and hugged him tightly , he looked at her surprised by her actions .

" I am so glad , that you are okay..." She whispered as tears fell from her brown eyes , he sighed " You didn't need to worry about me ! I am pretty strong you know ! " He said trying to cheer her up but he got no reply from the girl .

He motioned at his friends to get out for a moment , they nodded and Souji along with Chizuru were the only ones in the room .

They stayed like that for a little bit,her hugging him tightly while his eyes were closed then he spoke " Chizuru-chan . I am so sorryâ€¦You shouldn't have been through all of thisâ€¦just because you helped me , you shouldn't have suffered so much because of meâ€¦I am really sorryâ€¦" He refused to look at her his emerald eyes filled with sadness and guilty .

She shook her head " I forgive you , Okita-san . " She said as he looked at her with widened eyes , a small sad smile appeared on his face and he wiped off the tears that were still in her eyes " Thank you so much Chizuru-chan . "He whispered as she gave him the small cup filled with hot tea .

"..Here you go,drink thisâ€¦.It will make you feel better . " She said and he took it without hesitation . He drank it then turned at her " Arigatoâ€¦ " Then he felt his eyes closing and he yawned " I am sorry Chizuru-chanâ€¦I still don't have enough energyâ€¦" He said just before sleep took over him .

The end of chapter 10 .

Surprise , surprise ! I updated really soon this time ! Anyway thanks for your reviews and can anyone guess who 'Dog' , ' Puma ' and 'Wolf ' are ? XD I think I made it pretty obvious actually . XD

_Well I hope you enjoyed this chapter ! Please review ! :) _

11. My name is ?

After some days Souji was finally able to stand up without being in pain and could >walk around though he still got tired rather easily .

In the meanwhile Chizuru had become friends with the guys , there was the happy-go-lucky ' Dog ' who would always try to make her laugh with his eyes that were like the waters of a river , millions of feelings flowing inside them .

There was the silent ' Wolf ' who would help her gently in whatever she needed , she had never saw him smile though and she knew it would be a rather rare sight to witnessâ€¦but his orbs hid a bit of loneliness something that not many people were able to see beyond his mask .

Then was the Horse who always smiled gently trying to cheer her up , his golden eyes watching everything even if the others never realized it , he cared for everyone and noticed even the subtle changes in them , in the way they acted .

She then noted that she hadn't been able to meet the ' Puma ' , the ' Eagle ' and the ' Weasel ' , she couldn't help but wonder what kind of people they would be like .

She blinked and then thought that she didn't know Okita-san's codename ! Well of course she knew they used codenames for some reason and she wasn't the one to ask things like that .

But this question wouldn't leave her mind even if she busied herself with stuff like cleaning the rooms and cooking since she also had discovered that those men were _not_ that good cooks and took the matter in her hands .

So when she was done with everything , she decided that she would rather straightforward this time that isn't one of her traits really , she would go and ask him herself !

She walked in the hallway silently and soon as she reached his door , she was hesitating if she did that , she may embarrass herself so much but her curiosity got better off her , she took a deep breath and knocked a voice was heard from the room "Come in ! "

Chizuru entered the room where Souji was sitting in his bed with a smirk on his face " Hello Chizuru-chan ~ " He greeted her and she looked away " U-Um Okita-san I have been meaning to say something to youâ€¦" She managed to say .

He stood up with a mischievous glint inside his emerald eyes " Eh , is that so ? ~ " He walked closer to her and whispered in her ear " And what that might be ? "

She blushed when she realized how close he was to her " Ummâ€¦wellâ€¦" She hesitated and the smirk in his lips widened even more " Hmm ? ~ "

" What is your animal codename , Okita-san ? ! "She asked in one breath and it took some moments for Souji to understand what she was saying , a loud laugh escaped his lips and Chizuru looked at him surprised " W-What's so funny ? ! " She asked while the man was still holding his sides from laughing so much .

He glanced at her when he finally calmed down and he grinned at her " It's just I so wasn't expecting that ! I thought you were going to say something completely different at first , you caught me off guard . " He admitted and she couldn't help but blush even more .

" S-So are you going to tell me ? " She asked since she was still curious .

He leaned closer to her so his breath was caressing her face " What do you think I am ? " He whispered as she closed her eyes in surprise " I-I don't knowâ€¦" He chuckled and said " Wild Cat . Do you know why ? Because I am wild . " and he pecked her cheek leaving the room .

Chizuru stood there frozen for a bit , her eyes widened and then her face became redder than a tomato .

Souji chuckled to himself , it always was fun to tease her like that it lifted up his mood , he walked in the hallway , it was time he was ready to start his job again even if she would be against it , he has to .

A familiar figure with purple eyes appeared and Souji faked a grin " Hijikata-san , I am back ~ " He called out and the other man glared at him and a sigh escaped his lips " Why can't you be more careful idiot ? ! Do you know how much trouble you caused us , do you ? ! " He scolded him but before he left Souji heard him saying " Good job , Souji . "

The brown haired man smiled to himself as he entered a strange room filled with computers , there was his friend ' Wolf ' working on some documents " Hey , do I get any mission ? " Souji asked as he stood up next to the purple haired man who just looked at the screen without any emotions in his eyes .

" Not yet . However there is something you should look at . " He motioned at some papers that were laying on his desk and Souji took them in his hands raising an eyebrow and then his face darkened " That must be-Damn this story is getting tiring . " He thought to himself as he heard his friend asking " What are you going to do ? " Souji glared at the documents he was holding and threw them at the desk " I am not going to do anything yet , I have to tell her first but that will take me some time . " He said as he ran out of the room annoyed .

That brat , always gets him into trouble , doesn't it ? A chuckled escaped him , oh well he always causes trouble anyway !

Now he has to take care of some very important things a grin appeared on his face ' This is going to be fun . ' He thought .

12. The Secret Mission

He headed towards her walking in a slow pace , he didn't want her to feel sad when she learnt the news but there wasn't any other choice he had to go .

He would prove himself this time around .

This boy for a bit fame , he did everything possible , he didn't care at all about his victims that now lie dead on the floor , blood all around them .

His hazel eyes were filled with hatred and also something else .

Madness .

He was mad , his mind was never really stable , it was true at some pointsâ€¦...when he was little , he would hear many voices in his head whispering sweet , scary and sad words in his ear leading him to believe that everything was worthless .

He continued acting like he was normal , only one person knew the truth about his condition , he walked towards the dead body of the man that was buried in his own blood and took out the small knife , he had died with his eyes open looking at the dark space of nothingness , the boy smiled to himself in a sadistic way and leaned closer to the body whispering " You knew too much , I couldn't allow you to stay alive , even for one more day.."

He gave him a powerful kick " You deserved it anyway ! You were never my real father , the only thing you did is cause me trouble ! ! " He cried out and then ran outside .

_" Why ? " _Were the last words that this man managed to ask before he spit out blood and fell in the ground with a thud .

He knew that sooner or later the police would find the dead boy of the doctor in his office , he had no choice but to leave , he grinned darkly " Goodbye forever , _father _. " He whispered and disappeared in the darkness of the night .

Souji's eyes searched for the girl that he was looking for , he had to talk to her right now .

Then finally he spotted her " Chizuru-chan . " He called and the girl turned around blinking "â€¦Okita-san , is something the matter ? " She asked as she saw the serious expression that was on his face , all of sudden she had a really bad feeling about this .

The blue haired man got up quickly and took his gun in his left hand , closed his eyes and headed to their Leader's office .

He knocked and came in quietly " Wolf reporting the data about the killer has been found , do you wish for me to act on it or would you rather wait for another member to do so ? " He asked as the purple eyes of the older man became harder " Damnitâ€¦"He muttered to himself as he looked at him .

" Wolf your orders are : find the murderer's whereabouts and follow him if you find something that could help us defeat him send us a sign , I will send you backup later , I am sorry for that..." The man apologized but the Wolf just nodded " Yes sir , I will do my best..." He said and bowed quickly before changing his uniform to one better suited for spying and attacking , he wore a belt with several weapons on it .

Knives , guns , small swords , bombs and many other useful things for when you are planning an attack , he faded into the shadows quietly , not leaving a trace behind him like always .

Souji led Chizuru to a place where they could see the view , it was still winter but the weather had become a bit warmer and the sky was not filled with clouds after the many days of rain , everything around them was green , some petals were dancing in the air not caring in the least about the problems of the world .

Souji sometimes was jealous of them and snow after all , they were happy and had nothing to worry about , him on the other side had a lot of stuff bothering at this very moment and there was also that girl looking at him with such sad and worried eyes , he sighed and hid his face behind his bangs .

" Okita-san ? " She asked wondering what had happened to the man that she was joking along only some hours ago .

He looked away from her gaze not wishing to tell her the truth she would be too scarred if she learnt but he had no other choice , he took a deep breath and he saw the small pud of water that reflected him at the moment , he seemed alone and afraid , It's a shame he couldn't be as strong as some other people he knew , he was always afraid of losing himself , losing his friend , in his life he had lost many things , he didn't wish to lose her too .

He smiled sadly as he looked up to the sky , again clouds had appeared in it making everything seem dark again almost like he felt inside in his own heart .

" I have something important to tell you. " He said slowly trying to not let what he was feeling to be hinted into his voice , making it as emotionless as he could and then turned to look at her with dark eyes that made her breath hitch in her throat .

Okita-san lookedâ€¦.differentâ€¦she had never seen him like that before , his eyes had a small tint of red inside them instead of the usual emerald that she loved to see and his face was sad and angry at the same time , his hair had taken a lighter shade of brown , he walked closer to her slowly the scary expression never leaving his face .

He soon was in front of her , he leaned closer and closer , she could almost feel his breath on her face , his eyes were glaring at them , she shivered as he pressed her against the wall .

" O-O-Okita-san ? " She barely managed to mutter before he lowered his head and whispered in her ear " I am sorryâ€¦" and then kissed her cheek and hit her in the neck , the girl felt her breath being taken away and soon everything faded to black the last thing she saw before losing consciousness was his sad expression and she heard his words "â€¦I just couldn't tell youâ€¦"

He took her in his arms and carried her back in her room as he felt worse than he did before all of sudden he started coughing , his lungs hurt so much , he almost fell to the ground biting his lip to not let out a painful groan , he could barely breath .

' Damn him and his sudden attacks ! ' he thought as his eyes closed in pain , after a bit , he could finally breathe again normally , he looked at Chizuru .

" I am sorryâ€¦I couldn't bring myself to tell youâ€¦" He admitted as he caressed her face slightly and then kissed her forehead and he then felt even sadder , he was leaving her behind , not telling her the truth but what other choice did he have..?

If she learned about it , she would come with him and that would hurt her even more , if she managed to learn the news she would be completely broken , everything would shatter like glass , so easily everything would be destroyed .

He won't stand that .

So he will make it disappear before it can affect her that much .

He stood up and glanced at her one more time before walking out and closing the door quietly behind him .

That was for the best . That she didn't know about it . She won't know who is the one to blame and will suffer alone so he wouldn't let her know this dark secret .

He didn't really understand how , why and when she became so important to him but he won't be able to stand seeing her crying again and being tortured , she had been through so much because of him anyway , she didn't deserve even more abuse .

He quickly took everything he needed and then headed out of their base , to unfold the mystery and find out if what he read in his friend's notes , it's true.

A confident look appeared in his eyes that burned with a bright fire , if it was , he would hesitate to do what he thought was the right thing and that would be probably to make him disappear from this world .

If that wasn't the case though , he would bring him here so that he could see her .

It was already dark outside , he walked quietly in the empty road and then noticed a figure watching him and a smirk appeared on his face " Come out...You aren't good at hiding man..."He said teasingly and his friend appeared out of the shadows , he wore the black uniform that was designed for their missions along with everything else they needed .

" Why are you leaving , Souji ? " He asked curtly getting straight into the pointâ€¦they had no time to waste .

He wore his mask again trying to hide his feelings " I am going to find out the truth . " He replied simply and then glared at the blue eyed man " You can help me if you want but I won't allow you to stop me . " He commented darkly .

The end of chapter 12

Well yeah I had sudden inspiration ~ XD I hope you like it ! Please review !

13. A New Opponent

Chapter 13-A new opponent.

The other man just looked away " I don't plan to make you stay , however I have my own mission , so don't interfere if you please. " He said in a cold tone and Souji just nodded understanding that his words actually were ' I won't follow you but if you need my help , I will come.'

" Thanks . " He muttered as he ran inside the darkness of the night .

He ran with all his might and his steps echoed in the silent road , this was one of the less popular places in Kyoto , so he didn't really bother anyone and no one could see him .

He checked around , he was near the area the murder had first appeared , he should be careful .

After all the information may have been incorrect and he may have to face a much tougher opponent than the one that he expected .

The young man had noticed that he was being followed and started walking on many empty roads to confuse the other but it seemed hopeless , he just wouldn't disappear , he tsked and took out his knife , no other choice then .

' He dies . " He whispered .

Souji was following him then all of sudden he felt something different and looked around him then he barely dodged the small knife that was coming his way aiming for his neck , he cursed under his breath and his hand touched his gun slightly not afraid to use it .

" Who is there ? ! " He demanded to know , as his emerald eyes looked right and left , his heart was beating loudly as he heard the footsteps coming behind him , he quickly turned around and faced a young boy wearing a mask .

" I don't know how you found about me , but I will not allow you to bother me any longerâ€¦" The boy said in a dangerous voice and then walked towards Souji a cold smile on his lips that could be seen under his mask .

He took out his gun and his smile widened as Souji looked at him with his eyes widened in shock " Say goodbye to this world . " He whispered and shoot several times , he smirked to himself pleased that his opponent was killed that easily , it meant that he wasn't worthy of his time , he turned to leave .

" What ? You think I am such a pathetic guy not even able to dodge this ? Man then you are so fucking mistaken . " A voice called from behind him and he looked back surprised to see that inside the shadows of the night that man was there not injured in the least and smirking at him .

He cursed under his breath " You are pretty stubborn , you know that ? "

He glared at him " So , what do you want to do with me ? " He asked rather harshly as Souji smiled to himself , he had succeeded in his plan making him become interested in him so he can take some answers .

" First of all take off that damn mask , I can't stand talking to people that hide their faces , because that means they have something more to hide , right ? " He commented his eyes shining with confidence while the other man just looked at him darkly and took off his mask " It doesn't matter anywayâ€¦even if you see my face...you are going to dieâ€¦"

Souji's thoughts were right , it was him after all .

He looked so alike her it would be too unrealistic if he acted like he wasn't truly that guy who was so precious to her but he had no other choice as it seemed .

His eyes hardened as a grin appeared on his face and he touched softly the blade that was hidden in his belt .

The brown haired girl opened her eyes confused , she was back in her room , but why ? The last thing she could remember was Okita-san apologizing to her and then everything became black .

She stood up wondering what was the meaning of this . She got out of her room and started walking around searching for Souji anywhere she could think of .

However she couldn't find him and that made her even more worried , she just hoped that he hadn't done anything to reckless yet .

Then she realized that there was a room , she hadn't checked yet and there was a possibility that he was in there .

She bit her lip in hesitation , she had been told to NOT approach that room for any reason by everyone but she had to talk to him so it left her no other choice .

She opened the door and was welcomed by a large room filled with computers and many files , she looked around but it seemed that he wasn't here after all , she turned to leave the room before anyone noticed her but something interesting caught her eye .

There was a familiar name in that file,she took it in her hands surprised to see it , what had he to do with Okita-san and everyone else ?

He was supposed to be gone for some months on university if she wasn't mistaken , she knew the saying that curiosity killed the cat but she couldn't help but wanting to find out why , such a familiar name would be written in here , she gulped and started reading it .

Her eyes widened in shock and the paper fell from her hands that instant loudly on the floor , she stood there completely frozen.

" It can't be . " She managed to whisper .

Souji blinked "â€¦Oh you look surprising identical to someone I know ~ " he said as a plan was on his mind , he just had to wait for the right moment to make it reality .

" I do ? That's very odd but anyway we shouldn't be bothered about that stuff , now should we ? " He commented his brown eyes filled with something was strangely familiar to Souji because of his job , madness , anger and hate .

"Yes you doâ€¦And I wonder why would you change your name to Nagumo Kaoru if that was the truthâ€¦? "The man with the eyes of the emerald thought out loud,he smirked when he noticed the man flinch when he mentioned his name and his voice became even colder .

"You, how do you know that? " He questioned a dangerous aura surrounding him, he walked closer to his opponent who just smiled.

"That doesn't really matter now, does it? " He just said in a happy tone then all of sudden it became darker "After allâ€¦.you shall dieâ€¦" He added and a hint of madness appeared in his eyes that became a bit crimson.

Kaoru blinked and took the gun out as a grin appeared on his lips " It seems that this will turn out rather interesting after all. " He muttered to himself as he attacked Souji swiftly.

He dodged the blow with ease and aimed for a punch on his jaw , his eyes quickly looked around them , It was highly unluckily that anyone would appear , they were near a deserted factory , he tried to think of the advances he had .

That boy Kaoru seemed to have only two weapons but it still seemed that he was not someone to be underestimated , he had already killed 6 people after all.

On the other side however Souji was way more experienced at facing criminals and rather dangerous people , he was also very fast and an expert on using the sword , he had survived many more battles that this sick brat could ever try to .

After all he wasn't aiming to kill him just yet , he had decided that it would be for the best to try a different method this time , he didn't have anything with the kid but she would be really hurt if she learned the truth about her father and people she knew about being killed by someone who was so dear to her .

It seemed that Kaoru noticed that he was thinking and took the chance to attack him from behind but Souji didn't allow him to do anything further than try , he avoided it and pushed him against the wall holding him from his neck tightly so much that the boy could only barely manage to breath , his green eyes glared at him as he pressed a small knife some inches away from his neck .

" We can do this , with two methodsâ€¦the easy one and the hard way. Choose wisely . " He advised but Kaoru just grinned and shouted " I am not done yet ! " He kicked his opponent in the stomach whose eyes widened in surprise and cursed under his breath as his blade fell on the floor and now was in the hands of his enemy that looked at it impressed .

" That's a rather nice knife you have there , it would be nice to kill you with something you owned anyway because everything has a story behind it . " He explained as Souji glared at him and stood up .

" You won't be able to kill me using such a petty weapon . " He said as Kaoru once again attacked him however this time the element of surprise didn't exist so he was prepared , he grabbed his hand before it could connect with his face and gave him a powerful hit on his chin and turned his hand so hard that it broke .

Kaoru groaned in pain as his right hand became utterly useless , he swore under his breath as he looked at his opponent panting .

" What is this ? Wow I seriously expected you to be more rough but it seems you never got into many fights , did you? " Souji noted as Kaoru bit his lip in annoyance and tried to stand up again but before he could his enemy had shoot the bullet just some inches away from his right leg , his eyes hovering over him suddenly became darker than before and almost crimson , at that moment Kaoru realized that he had to use his brain to get out of his situation so instead of trying to hit him again , he decided to try something different and probably more effective , he turned to that man who he didn't know anything about even his name but he had learned one important fact , he knew about his sister .

"..Does Chizuru know any of theseâ€¦? " He asked quietly , his word surprised him as he saw him blinking but the emotionless mask appeared on his face once again.

"â€¦No,she doesn'tâ€¦.But since you did some awful stuff like that , I don't want to imagine what she had to go through because of you . " That was a lie , Souji knew that his own actions had made her suffer already quite a lot , he didn't wish for it to happen again and that was exactly the reason that he was going through all of this trouble anyway .

Souji pointed his gun at him " You have two options . " He announced " One , you follow me and two you die here . "He said his hand already on the trigger .

Kaoru for the first time in many years felt something odd , something that he hadn't felt since he was a kid and that was fear.

He closed his eyes and his breath hitched " I surrender . " He declared and Souji walked towards him the gun still in his hand and smiled to him " Sorry but you aren't going to get away that easily ~ " Then Kaoru noticed that his eyes had become completely crimson and that his hair had faded to white , his own orbs widened in shock as the blade connected with his skin he let out a painful scream as his leg was filled with blood , he looked at his opponent almost shivering , that man was mad , he realized , even madder than him .

Souji grinned happily " That way you won't be able to run away , right ? " Towards the last word , his voice became much darker and Kaoru at that moment before he could realize what had happened he heard a voice in his head a very dark voice and a grin appeared on his lips " I am not dead , not yet . " His hand caressed the small knife he always kept hidden and buried it deep into Souji's hand .

His eyes widened as his blood fell like a river from the place that his hand was stabbed at , he looked at Kaoru with a mad and dangerous glint in his eyes .

"You are going to die ! ! ! " He said and as he was ready to attack he felt like everything was becaming black , he cursed under his breath , damn he had used it so many times already , it seemed that his body was at his limit , however even at his current state he was able to make his enemy even more afraid than before because right now pure hatred was in his crimson eyes , the color so similar to the one that his hand was painted at .

Souji hit him on his neck swiftly and everything faded into black .

Then at that moment Souji's heart finally stopped beating so fast like it was about to burst and he knelt on the floor blood falling from his lips .

His breath was already becoming uneven and then he knew what to do , he called out the signal that only he and other person knew and he lost consciousness .

A man with blue hair and eyes in the color of sapphire was watching the battle not sure if he should interfere yet but then he heard his companion's words and rushed to his side just as he fainted , he caught him before he hit the ground and examined the wound , it was a bit deep but nothing that couldn't be fixed , he sent a small and curt message and then he took both men in his arms with ease and headed to his the headquarters , their Leader had to learn of this .

He disappeared in the darkness of the night , his eyes scanning the area for any signs of the battle that had just taken place when he realized that he was safe , he run as fast as he could , he hoped that Nagumo Kaoru didn't have any supporters that could stand in his way .

Hopefully he was right , no one tried to stop him as he found the car that they used for such activities , a black Mercedes that had glass that you couldn't see who was inside from the outside was used to hid the faces of the criminals or other important people that they were assigned to protect , those were their orders from the higher ups after all .

She stood there her body completely frozen from the shock as she tried to process the information in her mind .

Kaoru .

That Kaoru .

Her brother was the one who killed father ! For God's sake that shouldn't be possible ! Their relationship was always good and Kaoru protected and helped her every time that she found difficulty in doing something .

How could he murder his own _father _? !

She clutched her fists , that's right he never was their real father but was so nice and gentle to take them in when he owned them nothing .

But he still saved themâ€¦so why? ! !

She bit her lip as she decided what she would do run out and head to the weaponry room, she had to know if this was true , she just couldn't stand here waiting like a stupid and ignorant child. She would get in trouble for even attempting to do this but a burst of courage filled her chest as she left the cursed room still holding the file tightly and walked fast towards her destination but as she passed the next door , she saw three familiar faces two of them were unconscious bruises on their faces and at that moment she noticed the blood that was coming from their wounds , her breath hitched in her throat as she run towards the pale men but a cold voice stopped her .

" Don't come closer . " Wolf warned his blue eyes glaring at her making her take a step back from fear , he had never expressed an emotion towards her always wearing that perfect mask , she shivered under his cold gaze and nodded timidly her confident self had gave itself to the usual her , the coward that she always was .

She watched him leave but her eyes followed his every step , the man that she was ready to find had appeared right in front of her unconscious and unable to answer her questions.

Her heart was filled with worry , it seemed like things had turned to something completely different from what she had expected .

She cursed under her breath for being so useless for one more time and walked away following her friends .

Saito had left his injured friend to Yamazaki to take care of him and had dumped Kaoru in a cell that he would unable to escape no matter what method he had under his sleeve handcuffs were placed on him that give signals to the body that the one who wears them is currently suffering from exhaustion , it was one way to slow him down . Invented by one of their own men , Keisuke Sannan who was now along with the commander in his office .

Saito knocked politely and bowed his head slightly " Commander , I would like to inform you that the attempt of capturing Nagumo Kaoru has been dealt successfully . " He explained as the purples orbs widened in surprise .

" So soon ? That's good news . You don't seem injured though , wasn't he as powerful as we had thought , he was ? " Hijikata asked calmly and the blue haired soldier sighed and shook his head " I was not the one who faced him , I watched from the shadows , since you had requested Souji as my captain right ? He came out exactly after me and chased Nagumo Kaoru-" A slam on the desk made him pause for a second as other man seemed furious after learning this information.

" Damn that stupid brat . " He muttered under his breath rather annoyed with how the things turned out , he sighed and looked at Saito " And then what did he do ? " He questioned making it clear that the emerald eyed man wasn't following orders from the commander at that time .

" He defeated the target after some time , however he didn't come out unaffected , he had a deep cut on his right hand and some minor injures . " Saito stated as Hijikata tsked as his eyes were filled with annoyance " And what about the target ? Is he out of cold right now ? "

" Yes , at that moment he is alone in cell 307 along with the special handcuffs that Sannan-san has created . "Saito replied curtly .

" Very wellâ€¦You are dismissed Saito..."

The man turned to leave but stopped himself for a second and turned to face their Leader "â€¦Commanderâ€¦I have to report that Souji was acting strangely , during the fight , please consult him about this at some point . "and with those words said he left the room , leaving the black haired man wondering what exactly had happened during that battle .

Chizuru followed Saito and waited until the right moment to go inside the infirmary to see how he was , she had seen blood falling from his wound and that was exactly what made her heart beat fast in worry .

She walked in as she realized that no one else but her and Souji was in the room and approached him with gentle eyes .

She caressed his face softly "â€¦Okita-sanâ€¦why did you do that ? After all that he has done , why did you let him live ? Was it for my sake ? Was that the reason that you are now injured and unable to use your right hand ? If that's whyâ€¦I am really sorry..." She whispered tears falling from her eyes as one of them rolled on his cheek making it seem like he was the one crying instead , she held his other hand tightly and after a bit she felt someone squeeze it , she looked up surprised to see Souji smiling at her weakly "â€¦Chizuru-chanâ€¦? " He whispered in a worried tone as her heart skipped a beat .

14. Chapter 14

Okita Souji was a difficult man, everyone knew that. She knew it but she didn't let herself get discouraged about it. He never really opened up to her. He never really understood... Why did he still enjoy her company? Why had he told her secrets that had been buried deep inside his heart for many years? Those questions were haunting her even in her dreams.
>Why?
What kind of effect did she have on him? He bit his lip; it was too odd and he couldn't really realize the reason. She isn't anything special, she had suffered as he had, she had lost her family as he had, she is alone now, and she has been scarred by the wounds of the hardships she had to face. While he had been through the same things with different circumstances, he managed to understand that those could connect them somehow, but still, why did she care so much about him? Why was she holding his hand so tightly, tears streaming down her face as she looked at him in this broken state? What had he done to deserve her kindness? All this time he had only been making her suffer, and used her for his own reasons. He was terrible to the core and he knew it, but that was his nature. He couldn't change that just because he met her.

>It was simply impossible. Only a very small number of people had tried to get close to him. When he was a child everyone pitied him and whispered, as he stood all alone looking at his parents' graves, his expression apathetic,his dark green eyes not bearing any emotion. It was like looking at two emeralds that had lost their glow.
He hated it when they pitied him. No one understood how much he was suffering but one man. He held out his hand to the lost child and slowly, as time passed by, he accepted it, They walked together in this road. He was so kind, and he would always help anybody who was in need- even if that meant being sleepless for many days straight, or having not enough money for a week, but he never gave up. That man lit up Souji's world and then as they stayed together for many years, he actually managed to open up more and more, but he still was a coward, hiding behind those cruel jokes and the cold grin that almost never left his face. He would never show his cards to anyone. But this group of people had managed to just barely become his friends, as they spent time together practicing and laughing. Slowly but steadily, they started to hold a special place in his heart. Oh, it took so many years for that to happen.
>And then... the glass shattered. He bled, and he bled all alone... Wounds that never closed were still filled with that crimson liquid. He was gone. The only man who had really cared about him after his parents died. He was gone so quickly, and that was his downfall. He couldn't accept it, he just couldn't. It hurt so much! Oh, how many days he cried until his tears refused to run anymore! Nobody knew this weak side of him, and Okita intended to keep it that way.
Then, all of a sudden, the tables had turned completely, just by meeting her. He didn't want her to suffer so much... He regretted meeting the girl in the first place. She didn't deserve it. If it was him that had to pay this price, then so be it. He had committed so many sins. It was his work, so even if he had to endure all of this pain, he would take it without any complaints. He had done too much. Why was it that he was never punished?! At this very moment, he was doing something that many people did everyday, but they never really noticed how bad it really was. Using someone for his sake like this... It was awful.
>He chuckled on the inside- why? It made made him feel even more guilty than before. "Damn it!" "Don't ask such stupid questions!" He wanted to yell, but he realized that doing so would be harsh, and this girl had done nothing but help him. Even so, that didn't stop him from thinking about it.
Oh, yes, that little son of a bitch really should be punished slowly and painfully after all those murders he did. Did this bastard find killing fun, or was he just downright crazy?
>He blinked, then paused. He noticed something strange. As he looked back on their fight, something odd had happened towards the end. His memory of that time was rather blurry, which didn't make any sense.
He felt two fragile arms wrap around him after a bit, and warm, salty tears fell on his clothes. He looked up to see that she was now hugging him tightly, yet carefully, not touching the places where he was still injured. He couldn't help but feel a sting in his heart at that moment. What he was doing was wrong.
>He knew he should stop, but he was too far gone to do that, sadly. It was too late to fix his mistakes, but there was one thing he was still able to do. He would try to make her see who he really was so she could be happy, away from him.
I'm not worth any of her kindness... She should be treated in a better way! She should be with someone who can actually make her feel happiness instead of pain. All

I give is pain... He realized that the only thing he could do is cause pain for others, and that curse was slowly eating him on the inside. That's why he didn't return her gesture. He just let her cry those tears of relief for his sake, since he knew he wouldn't be able to cry ever again. After everything he'd been through, he felt he had very little emotion. Nothing really mattered to him anymore. A sad smile appeared on his lips. "I'm sorry," he whispered.
>Her soft brown eyes widened in surprise as soon as she heard him speak. She didn't answer, she merely smiled at him gently.
'I forgive you, Okita-San.' The words repeated over and over in her head, but were so misplaced as she didn't know the reason he was apologizing.
>"Chizuru-chan."He whispered her name softly, as he suddenly felt that he should do something in return for her once. His hand reached out and caressed her hair gently as she cried against his chest.
People always say that he is cold, and he is, but deep inside in his heart, there is a bit of warmth that was never expressed. He was still seen as "a truly pitiable child" to everyone but Kondou-San, and now he was gone. He hated being pitied, yet he found he pitied himself. He decided to care for the girl, to pity her instead.
>He whispered soothing words in her ears as she cried herself to sleep, still leaning against him. He softly kissed her forehead and wished her to sleep well.
He looked out of the window of his room, the wind whistling loudly and the leaves danced in the air slowly. His expression melted to apathy as his eyes closed. I'll never be good enough to stand by her side... That wasn't going to stop him.. A chuckle escaped his lips as he held her hand tightly. He whispered two words- two words that meant a lot, especially coming out of his mouth. These words were spoken so kindly and filled with emotion, he was surprised it was his voice.
>"Thank you."
>His heart was still cold as ice , yet a small fire was slowly getting stronger, and that's why he could still be with her.

15. Chapter 15

She had already realized that he was trying to make her feel better by telling bitter lies. She bit her lip. She wasn't someone whom he would care about.
>After all, he didn't seem to remember the short time they spent together as much as she did.
She cherished every second that he was by her side. Why? She didn't know, to say the truthâ€¦
>It was a mystery to herâ€¦or, actually, the correct way to say it would be that she had finally made herself believe that everything could change in a single moment, but feelings take time to develop into the stage that they were then. So why did she want to smile so much when she saw his face? Even if he was wounded and distant, she still knew that he was there, alive, breathing next to her, and that was the only thing that truly mattered.
She had learned the harsh lessons that life had to give from a very small age. She was bullied ever since she could rememberâ€¦she closed her eyes as those days appeared back in her mind. She could picture it clearly. She was sitting alone on a bench reading her book. She was barely 7, and it was her second day of school. She didn't know how to approach others, so she was alone, waiting for her brother to come. At that moment, she thought she heard the sound of something hissing in her ear, and, when she looked up, heart beating like a drum, a boy her age took the book from her hands and laughed loudly. "Hey why are you alone? Are you a freak? Hahaha!" More kids started to surround her and were screaming at her. She closed her eyes and hugged her knees, hoping that she could disappear, but it wasn't possible.

>The poor child couldn't escape the claws of her enemies. Every day she would find her bag thrown in the water, completely soaked, and many not-so-nice messages written in her desk. She wanted to cry so much! She wanted to run away, to never see anybody again. She was too afraid to face reality, and she didn't have the courage to stand up for herself.
One day , she saw a small boy with cold emerald eyes that made her take some steps back.
>He seemed like he was new. He always had a distant look in his face whenever they were in class, like he was far away from this world to one of his own, where nothing mattered. She wanted to become friends with him, but she was too afraid to introduce herself. She stayed in the darkness, not even trying to come out of her shell. He actually made the first step.
It was time for them to go home. With fear, Chizuru realized that her bag was missing again, and with a sigh, she walked outside trying to find it. Her hair was messy from the beating she took from the boys in her grade, but the teacher never truly understood what was happening. Chizuru had already given up.
>All of a sudden, she felt someone touch her shoulder. She turned around, her eyes revealing the pure fear inside her. She thought it was one of the bullies again, but to her relief, she was wrong. She blinked when, in front of her, the boy with the emerald eyes held her bag to her.
She had been staring into his eyes for some time. Each one seemed like a never-ending abyss, concealing each and every emotion he had ever had. Dig he ever express his feelings? Did he ever let them go? It seemed as if he hid it all. Slowly a smile appeared on her lips. She was relieved and happy, yet she was also uncertain and empathetic for the boy. She bowed. She began to thank him but her voice was cut by his.
>"Why don't you ask for help?"
Her eyes widened as she looked at him. He had a serious expression on his face. It looked almost as if he were trying to solve a difficult puzzle and had yet to find the solution to it.
>Chizuru tried to find a way to leave. She bowed deeper. "I am sorry, I have to go. Please excuse-" she turned to run away but his small hand caught her wrist. Their eyes met. Young Souji's eyes widened as he realized the tears falling from her eyes. His apathetic mask appeared once again as he walked closer to her and whispered in her ear. "You can make it go away." That was the last thing she heard before crying into his chest.
Nobody else cared about her. They would always pretend that she wasn't there, causing her heart to ache even more. She couldn't stand that pain any longer!
>He didn't say anything as she sobbed against him, but a hesitant hand reached out to hold her closer to him.
Why had he done that? She couldn't help but wonder many years later. She knew it was because he had been through so much as well. He had been in her place, he had been beaten up. He was beaten until his small body was filled with scars, and he could barely sleep at night. He had cried alone, but one man, Kondou-San, had helped him to stand up on his feet and fight. He wanted to help her because he knew very well that nobody deserved so much sadness and pain.
>When she finally calmed down, wiping the tears away from her chocolate eyes, she heard him whisper the words that made her find another meaning in her life, then he smiled and left.

The next day she learned that he had transferred to another school. His words were still in her heart, and they gave her courage to stand up for herself. She could still smile.
>No matter what she had to go through she would always smile. She reached her hand and cupped his face. "Thank you so much for helping me back then." At that time Souji wasn't aware of what she meant, mostly because he was barely awake. He looked at her, though his eyes seemed more like he was looking through her. Seeming surprisingly sad for one who never revealed his emotions, he slowly lifted a hand to wipe away a tear trickling down Chizuru's cheek. He forced a sad smile and fell asleep. As Chizuru's eyes closed, a soft smile appeared on her lips.
That day...
>That was the reason she loved him.
He was her savior.
>He was and forever would be the one she loved.

16. The New Mission

By the time spring had reached the city of Tokyo, the brown haired man had fully regained his strength and now he could be up for missions again, which was thrilling after two months of just walking around, he had gotten rather bored, it was expected though. He went to the roof wanting to see the view of the whole city as the cherry blossom petals danced in the wind, as there was a sea of pink underneath him.

A familiar voice called his name and he turned around to see Chizuru who was smiling brightly at him, by now she had gotten used to this environment of men who couldn't do a single chore and bloody cases, she had changed her clothes to a black jean and a black blouse with golden butterflies as it seemed she had also joined Yamazaki on of his missions.

Souji couldn't help but smirk after this two months she had changed quite a lot, he could still remember the day she had finally see her brother, they had been together, he wouldn't let him approach her even in the slightest bit because he was too dangerous right now, his mental condition had been worsened by staying in a cage all the time, he was always throwing a fight whenever they were coming in his cell. When he saw them, his eyes rolled with annoyance and then realized that his twin was there "Chizuru! Did you come to save me from all this madmen?!" He questioned excited just by the thought of leaving this damned place.

Her eyes widened slightly, as unwanted tears threatened to fall from her dark brown orbs but she wiped them away and faced him bravely "Kaoru, I am not here for this reasonâ€¦" She paused trying to calm down "I just want you to tell me one thingâ€¦why did you do all of this?"

When he realized that she was here just to ask him, he bit his lip and a mad glint appeared in his eyes as he punched the wall, he glared at her as she shivered under seeing it "And why do you care?"

He hissed at her as she took a step behind as her back made her fall to Souji, who steadily held her hand tightly and then he spoke "Of course she cares, you damn bastard." He practically growled at him and when Chizuru turned to face him, she saw such an amazing rage inside his emerald eyes which she truly had never seen for a long time.

Kaoru started laughing "Really now, Chizuru? You are siding with this monster instead of helping your own brother, how crazy can you even be?" Before she could reply Souji had already started retorting "Well I would say that you are the freaking madman here, so shut up, don't judge her decisions." He let go of her hand and walked towards the cell and grabbed Kaoru by the neck as a grin appeared on his face "So will you tell her or-" He left his sentence unsaid but both of them understood what he meant. Kaoru wasn't one to be fazed by something like that though, he just chuckled " It doesn't matter anyway, I have already destroyed both of you, so that's enough for me." He voiced his thoughts out loud and red flashed in Chizuru's eyes as Souji a powerful punch to her brother who lied on the ground still grinning. She couldn't take it anymore she run out of the room, she couldn't stand watching her brother being like that, it hurt.

She could remember all the times he had helped her so much in her life but now he had changed as she was running away she heard him screaming "You will pay for this!" as her breath hitched in her throat as her knees became weak and she leaned against the wall crying.

Steps echoed as she saw Souji standing there looking at her with saddened eyes and he just sat with her until she calmed down. He couldn't help her really because he couldn't understand what she was feeling at that moment but what made him smile was when she looked at him again and she had a confident look inside her eyes, that was the time when he knew that she was going to be okay and that there would be changes in the future.

Now she was helping the members with the paperwork and sometimes tugged along in some missions like she just had done right now, Souji couldn't help but feel a bit jealous that he couldn't be the one in the guy's place but he would never admit it anyway.

" Hello Chizuru-chan. What is the matter?" He asked as she told him that Hijikata-san had called both of them in his office, a smirk appeared on his lips well that sounds quite interesting.~

They went to the second floor and Souji burst in the room "Hola Hijikata-san, I am sure you don't have a problem, we came here, so what do you want me to do?" He asked grinning while the commander's eye twitched at his behavior, he sighed " I have a mission for you two." He announced.

Souji grinned even more "Well then get to the details already!" He was pretty excited after all the time he had been closed here, he was thirsting for some action!

Surprisingly a smirk appeared on the black haired man as he was ready to give them, the answer they were seeking for "You will guard the heiress of a very rich family who has is a target of an organization that used to be part of Kazama's, you will start working in her mansion. Chizuru will be assigned in helping the heiress with her clothes and stuff like that, her personal maid would be a nice way to put it." He explained as Souji smiled, that sounded pretty nice for now.

"And what will I do?" He questioned as Toshizo smirked even more " You will be in charge of the horses."

"Pardon?" The green-eyed man replied blinking.

"The heiress is very fond of them and rides at least twice a day, so that would be an honor to do such an important job, now wouldn't it be Souji?" He said with a smug expression on his face, it wasn't that common to see him surprised after all. Even Chizuru couldn't stop herself from laughing a little bit at the way he looked.

"What the heck?! Why does Chizuru gets the important one and I am just taking care of some horses?!" He demanded.

"Would you prefer to be a maid instead?" Hijikata replied with a teasing tone in his voice, Souji just started laughing madly "Really, you wish to die so soon?" He said glaring at him.

"Okita-san , please calm down." Chizuru said sweatdropping at the interaction of the two.

" You are dismissed, wolf will lead you the mansion." The leader said as the blue haired man that Chizuru just noticed that he was here spoke curtly "Yes sir. Follow me."

"Have fun." He bid them farewell while Souji was thinking of ways to kill him later, Saito drove them to the mansion.

Chizuru's eyes widened, it was huge. A girl with short brown hair smiled at them as she saw both approaching "Hello you must be the new employees . My name is Kosuzu, I am in charge of the workers here, pleased to meet you."

Chizuru bowed slightly " Nice to meet you I am Yukino Chi." One of the parts of the mission was the fake names. The girl smiled at her, she seemed pretty nice, her eyes turned to the brown haired man.

"And who you might be?"

He just sighed, he wasn't in mood for stuff like that, he was pissed off "Ok-" Then he just remembered the last rule and grunted "Ogami Sougo ."

"Very well, we mustn't keep the lady waiting for too long, come in." She announced as they entered the mansion.
